with an extensive supply of drugs. In the right photo, store manager Dwight Turner inspects the near-empty narcotics cabinet in the store's pharmacy after the break-in.

Police holding four suspects in second drug store burglary

Charges were expected to be filed Thursday by Washington C.H. police officers against four suspects in connection with the early morning burglary of the Revco Discount Drug Center in the Washington Square Shopping Center.

Police Chief Rodman Scott, who is conducting the investigation along with Police Specialist Larry Walker, said additional arrests may be made following the second drug store burglary in Washington C.H. within a week.

Police officers were called to the Revco drug store at approximately 4:45 a.m. Thursday after an employee of the McDonald's Restaurant on S. Elm Street reported seeing a person carrying a basket running from the store.

Scott said four suspects were being held in custody until formal charges were filed. Police officers obtained a search warrant early Thursday through acting Municipal Court Judge Omar A. Schwartz to enter a Washington C.H. residence where Scott said a large amount of hard drugs and other merchandise were recovered.

ALTHOUGH Scott would not elaborate on the case until formal charges had been filed, he said charges of burglary, possession of drugs and possession of drugs for sale were expected.

According to Dwight Turner, manager of the Revco drug store, burglars apparently entered by removing a furnace covering at the rear of the store, travelling through the furnace chute and either breaking or falling through a lowered, paneled ceiling.

Turner said an extensive amount of narcotics and other drugs were taken during the early morning break-in. Approximately $2,000 in drugs and a small amount of change from cash registers were reported missing but employees were still conducting inventory late Thursday morning.

The new Super X drug store in the Kroger complex on Clinton Avenue was also a victim of burglary within a period of a week. Burglars escaped with 28 expensive cameras, approximately 30 watches and a small amount of cash in the opening day break-in Jan. 26.

Scott would not say if the two drug store burglaries were related.

Watergate figures earning big money

WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. Dean III, out of his prison denims for less than a month, begins a Watergate lecture tour Sunday which will earn him at least $175,000 over the next nine weeks.

Unlike a similar campus tour planned by former White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, Dean's plans so far have stirred little complaint from those who believe no one should profit from Watergate.

Dean will speak in more than 50 college lecture halls through the first week of April at an average fee of $3,500 for each two-hour appearance. The first one at the University of Virginia will pay him $4,000, according to school officials.

Robert Walker, president of the Boston lecture bureau handling Dean's appearances, said the demand for Dean's speeches is the highest that Walker has encountered in 15 years in the business.

"Dean is in a class all by himself," Walker said Wednesday.

When he was released Jan. 8 by U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica, Dean had served four months of a one-to-four year prison term for his self-acknowledged role in the Watergate cover-up.

Despite his repeated telling of the Watergate story before various forums, Dean apparently remains the most fascinating of Richard M. Nixon's former White House aides.

John Herring, the University of Virginia official who administers the lecture and concert program at the Charlottesville, Va., campus, said students had tried to book Dean for a speech before he entered prison.

Of the 4,500 persons likely to hear the former White House counsel's first speech, Herring said, "Personally I would like to see them turn their backs and walk out on him."

However, Herring said he opposes any move to block Dean's appearance for whatever reason, saying: "That's still censorship."

Except for a minor and confused dispute over whether television cameras and tape recorders would be allowed at the Virginia speech, the only dissenting voice heard about the Dean appearance has come from the student newspaper. An editorial said $4,000 was too much to pay for the views of a convicted felon and disbarred lawyer.

At Michigan State in East Lansing, however, a speech planned Feb. 25 by Ziegler has stirred calls for demonstrations and a boycott.

Ziegler is to be paid $2,500 for his lecture on "Uses and Abuses of Power," and the student government has withdrawn an earlier commitment to pay half the cost.

While the university now will pick up the full tab, the elected student council said in a resolution Tuesday, "It's unfair that Ziegler should continue getting rich as a result of his participation in an attack on the American people on behalf of special interests."

Courts supporting new program

Youth rehabilitation project opened here

BY SANDY FOSSON

The new Ohio Youth Commission director William K. Willis believes prevention is the key to decreasing the 3,000 youths that are committed to the OYC juvenile facility each year.

"We (OYC) can't do it alone," he said. "But if we combine all our resources from cities, counties and federal government, we should have a real impact on delinquency."

FAYETTE COUNTY has begun to do its part with the initiation of the Fayette County Volunteers in Action (VIA) program for the prevention and rehabilitation of juvenile delinquents.

Beginning this week, Mrs. Leroy Davis, Ohio 41-S, acting coordinator of the program, is obtaining referrals from the Fayette County Juvenile Court and assigning the youths to the four volunteers who have already become involved in the project and have undergone probation officer's training.

The idea of a juvenile program in Fayette County was first considered last spring when Mrs. Davis' husband, the Rev. Leroy Davis, pastor of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, discussed the project with Fayette County Probate Judge Rollo M. Marchant and juvenile probation officer Marshall Boggs, after hearing of similar, successful programs in Michigan and Pickaway County.

Now, almost a year since inception of the program, the first juveniles will be meeting two hours weekly for a six-month trial period with their volunteers to discuss school and family problems and to just have a neutral companion.

"By way of this undertaking (via means 'by way of' in Latin), juveniles can gain more self respect and receive that first break," Mrs. Davis said.

"The volunteers in this program will work as a friend to the juvenile and not a watchdog of the court," Mrs. Davis added. "They must have the ability to care, listen and not be judgmental."

The program has received full support from Judge Marchant and the Fayette County Juvenile Court.

Boggs said there are presently between 60 and 75 juveniles actively on probation with 30 per cent girls. The Fayette County Juvenile Court handles cases of juvenile offenders from ages 13 through 18.

"There is definitely a need for this type of program," Boggs said. "They will be spending at least two hours a week with the juveniles where we normally don't spend that much time."

As the only juvenile probation officer for Fayette County, Boggs must visit the homes and talk with the parents of all juveniles, both male and female, under the court's jurisdiction.

MRS. DAVIS said the major problem now is to recruit more volunteers into the program. "We need volunteers of all ages, male and female, from all spheres of the population — we need farmers, businessmen, truckdrivers and mechanics, teachers, housewives and others to take just two hours a week to talk with these kids."

To become a volunteer in the program, interested persons complete an application blank stating particular interests and age preference for the youths.

Mrs. Davis then attempts to match the volunteer to the juveniles referred by Boggs with personalities and interests. Each volunteer has one youth to work with for the six-month period.

The volunteers undergo juvenile probation officer's training through the Juvenile Probation Council in Columbus to learn to listen and relate to the youths.

Once the training is completed, the volunteers meet with Boggs, the juvenile and his parents before setting up a flexible schedule to meet with the juvenile.

Throughout the program, in-service training sessions are held for the volunteers with Mrs. Davis, Boggs and other resource people to discuss general problems that may arise in the volunteer work.

"The research people are there to help the volunteers develop skills. If the volunteers run into a situation they can't handle, they call me and if it needs legal attention, we call the court," Mrs. Davis said.

The three main areas the VIA program will be concentrating on are prevention of further juvenile delinquency, serving as an addition to or substitute for the probation officer and rehabilitation once a juvenile has returned from a detention facility.

"One of the high problems is there are no alternatives for juveniles, Mrs. Davis said. "Either keep the kid on probation in the community or send him away — there is nothing in between."

"There is no juvenile center for the in-between kid," she added, "only the third floor of the Fayette County Jail."

PRESENTLY Mrs. Davis has been working to have the county program incorporated as a non-profit agency in order to attain more credibility and funding. Acting Municipal Court Judge Omar A. Schwartz is completing incorporation details for VIA.

Mrs. Davis is also establishing a working, advisory board for the program to include a group of influential persons to support and increase the capacity of the program. Mrs. Davis is planning to appoint an ex-convict, a representative from the Fayette County Children's Services Board, a representative from the courts, and three other persons to the advisory board.

"Through VIA, the juveniles can establish more positive attitudes about themselves and set goals to strive for," Mrs. Davis said. "In our economic situation, there is more tension at home, the kids get less attention and are more apt to steal. That's why VIA is so necessary now."

Case takes last fling at bench

Former Fayette County Common Pleas Court Judge John P. Case has decided to take a last fling at the legal bench.

The 66-year-old attorney filed a petition with the Fayette County Board of Elections Thursday morning to declare his candidacy for the judgeship of Washington C.H. Municipal Court in November.

According to statute, the petition must include 80 valid signatures. He had more than 140 signers of the document, all of which were obtained in less than 48 hours.

HIS CANDIDACY, as an independent, yields the strong possibility that there will be a contested judgeship race for the first time in many years. Although there was a contested primary race in 1962, there has been no contest in the general election since well before that time.

In an effort to avoid a Republican Party conflict similar to the one which arose in 1962 when he faced Evelyn W. Coffman in the Republican primary, Case said he will run as an independent. If there is a Republican candidate, Fayette Countians will be treated to a two-man contest in the fall.

A graduate of Washington High School, Case served as Fayette County Common Pleas judge

McDermott man wins

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The South beat the North today so speak in the Ohio lottery's Buckeye 300 contest as Charles R. Barry of McDermott won $300,000.

The second prize of $30,000 went to Emily F. Warren of Shaker Heights, one of the three contestants from the northern half of Ohio.

Settling for the $15,000 minimums were Stephanie Rahne of Cleveland, Josephine Kelanic of Lyndhurst, Norbert A. Heban of Rossford, and Wilma E. White of Columbus.

With only six participants, there was no $60,000 prize.

The week's winning single number was 846, and the double number was 225 992.

Barry, a retired Norfolk & Western Railway machinist, said gleefully that nothing so good ever had happened to him before.

No-fault auto insurance bill introduced in Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohioans could purchase no-fault automobile insurance, and state employees would get eye and dental care under bills now introduced in the state legislature.

Rep. Ronald H. Weyandt, D-43 Akron, Wednesday offered a proposal making no-fault insurance available to Ohioans.

Under no-fault insurance an injured party would collect from his own company, regardless of blame. Weyandt's bill, which is similar to one that passed the House and died in the Senate last year, basically would call for settlement out of court of all claims that total less than $1,500.

Weyandt said one change from last year's bill provides an automatic freeze of auto insurance rates if the no-fault plan is adopted. The earlier bill mandated a 10 per cent reduction, but was changed in view of the "uncertain economic conditions," Weyandt said. Twenty co-sponsors, representing both political parties, joined Weyandt on the bill. They include Rep. William E. Hinig, D-96 New Philadelphia, whose House committee probably will start hearings next week.

Eighteen bills were introduced in the House Wednesday, bringing one total introduced there this session to 214.

Among the new bills was a proposal that would have the state include eye and dental care in health insurance for its estimated 55,000 employees.

The bill has the backing of the 34,000-member Ohio Civil Service Employees Association, which estimated its cost at $8.3 million a year. The state now pays about 69 per cent of health care insurance costs for its employees, at a cost of $15 million annually.

Other new measures would give state employees an across-the-board, $1-per-hour salary increase, allow the new state Court of Claims to compensate victims of crime, allow cities to tax net incomes of industries and utilities and establish an Auglaize County Municipal Court.

Passersby at the new Kroger store saw one such conveyance rolling down the long, sloping parking lot toward the sidewalk. . . On reaching its destination, the cart fell lazily down beside several others that had made the same journey. . .

HEART FUND balloon sales will be conducted by volunteers from the Camp Fire Girls Friday and Saturday, Feb. 7 and 8, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Ullman urges fast action on tax cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Al Ullman urged his House Ways and Means Committee to approve a tax-cut bill by next week as President Ford indicated flexibility in dealing with Congress on tax reductions to boost the slumping economy.

Ullman, an Oregon Democrat, said he had a "very cordial and frank discussion" with Ford at a private meeting Wednesday, but their session failed to break the impasse on Ford's oil import tax program. The tariff hike, opposed by most congressional Democrats, goes into effect Saturday.

When a fellow Democrat suggested that the tax-cut bill also carry a repealer of the oil depletion allowance, Ullman urged that the tax bill be left unencumbered so that supporters of the oil-depletion allowance won't delay the measure.

The Ways and Means panel has heard a series of witnesses this week urge quick action on a tax cut to put more spending money in the hands of the public.

Ford indicated to a group of economic writers Wednesday that he was flexible on the question of tax cuts,

Sugar prices dip due to overstock

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Sugar warehouses across the nation are full and sales have been so slow some refineries have been forced to shut down.

It is a sharp comedown for sugar, which rose 400 per cent in price last year to join oil as a symbol of shortage and inflation.

Raw sugar has fallen $24 since it topped out at $64.50 per 100 pounds last Nov. 20.

The world's largest refinery, the C&H plant in San Francisco, called a five-day layoff. The second largest, Amstar's refinery here, has just reopened after a week's shutdown.

"Other refineries indicated they, too, were shutting down," said Saul Kolodny, a spokesman for Amstar Corp. in New York City. "I would characterize it as a temporary over-supply in the market."

This is the industry's slack season and part of the slump is normal, he added. But there was nothing routine about the accompanying sag in prices.

Amstar's wholesale list price for a five-pound sack of sugar has taken five steps down from a peak of $3.74 last Nov. 25. The latest, effective Friday, is $2.48.

Kolodny said supermarket prices often reflect the higher wholesale price of sugar that was in the supply pipeline and hasn't been depleted.

During the week ending Nov. 23, a time when sugar was reported in short supply and people were stocking up, the nation's refineries shipped 217,877 tons a week, compared with 173,067 tons for the same week a year earlier.

On Nov. 20, the market price broke downward.

With cheaper sugar looming, supermarket orders slackened off. For the week ending Jan. 18, shipments were down to 108,816 tons.

"When the price of sugar was going up, people figured they better buy today because tomorrow the price will even though Ullman is pushing a tax plan that differs from Ford's.

Ford said, "We'll do everything we can to sell our program, but we do have to end up with what the judgment is of Congress. I hope that there won't be too much deviation."

The key difference between the two plans is who would benefit from a tax reduction.

Ullman's plan would provide no tax relief for persons with more than $30,000 in annual income. Ford's plan, on the other hand, would give the person making $30,000 a rebate of just over $600, if the taxpayer is claiming four dependents and has average deductions. Rebates would rise to a maximum of $1,000 for a family with $41,000 income or more.

At the lower end of the income scale, Ford's tax rebate would give a family with $5,000 income an average refund of about $12 and families with incomes below $4,300 would get nothing.

Ullman's proposal would give a taxpayer at the $5,000 level a total tax break of about $260. If the taxpayer has paid no tax because of low income, he or she would receive a check from the government for about $200.

be higher," said Nick Kominus at the U.S. Cane Sugar Refiners Association in Washington.

"Now you've got the reverse situation. Instead of buying, people are eating up their inventory. At some point the market will correct itself, but when that will be, who knows."

Meanwhile, the Hawaii Sugar Planters Association said soaring sugar prices resulted in a tripling of the 1974 gross revenues for Hawaii's cane sugar industry — $740 million in total revenues last year compared with $232 million in 1973. The rise came despite an 8 per cent drop in total sugar production in the islands.

from 1953 through 1961. His bid for re-election to the common pleas bench was thwarted in the primary. In all he has served in the legal profession for more than 40 years.

His most recent duties as judge have been on the bench of the Municipal Court the past two years. He has served as acting judge during the lingering illness of Judge Reed M. Winegardner, who will vacate the post Jan. 1, 1976.

Ohio law states that no judge may be elected to office if the term will begin after his 72nd birthday. Judge Winegardner has now surpassed that mandatory retirement age and cannot consider running again. He will turn 75 on March 2.

Case, 330 Jupiter St., began his practice of law in Columbus in 1934. After serving in the U.S. Army, he began private practice in Washington C.H. in 1948, he was appointed attorney-examiner to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. Three years later he became the assistant attorney general of the state.

He served more than 10 years with the Ohio Department of Liquor Control after leaving the Common Pleas Court bench in 1961.

CASE IS noted for the openness of his courtroom. During his term as Common Pleas Court judge, he recognized and encouraged the public's right to scrutinize courtroom activities.

After being criticized in the newspaper for sending a man to prison on a drunken man-slaughter charge, the judge framed the clipping and posted it on the wall of his office. Two notes of his own were also framed. One stated his responsibility for determining the sentence to be imposed, the other stated that the editor had a right and obligation to criticize the sentence as he saw fit, as long as it did not hold the court to ridicule.

It would appear that this will be Case's last attempt at a judgeship since he too is approaching the 72 year age limit. By the time the Common Pleas Court bench is open for election or the municipal bench would again come around, he would be beyond the retirement age.

Evel Knievel planning tour

LONDON (AP) — Motorcycle showman Evel Knievel plans a tour of Britain this spring that will start with an appearance at Wembley Stadium here May 26, his agents say. It will be the daredevil's first appearance outside North America.

Last summer, Knievel succeeded in attracting wide attention for an attempt to jump across the Snake River Canyon in Idaho on a rocket-powered device. The jump, however, failed.

Ford extends amnesty deadline

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — President Ford has decided to order an extension of conditional clemency for one month, the head of the Clemency Information Center said today.

Chet Briggs, director of the center, which is sponsored by the National Council of Churches, said at a news conference he had been told by a White House source late Wednesday of the planned extension.

Ford was expected to announce his decision later today. One report in Washington said it was expected Ford would grant a one-month extension in an effort to sign up thousands of draft evaders and deserters who have failed to come forward.

Slasher strikes in Hollywood

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The "Skid Row Slasher" has apparently struck again, police say, moving this time from the central city to middleclass Hollywood.

The latest victim was found Wednesday night, his throat slit ear to ear.

Police Commander Peter Hagen said investigators are "working on the supposition" that the killing is linked to seven previous murders in which the victims, all single men who lived alone, were found with their throats slashed, one with a bloody knife nearby.

Stock list turns mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed in continued heavy trading today, giving up a sharp early gain under the pressure of profit taking.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, up about 7 points in the early going, was off .39 at 705.57 by noon. Gainers maintained a moderate lead over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Prices registered a strong initial reaction to a prime rate cut from 9 1/2 to 9 per cent by New York's Chase Manhattan Bank. But some traders who had been expecting some further interest rate reductions evidently chose the moment to cash in on profits after the dramatic rise of the past six sessions.

American Telephone & Telegraph, the NYSE's most active issue, rose 3/4 to 48 1/4.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was up .18 at 74.17.

Big Board volume reached 15.97 million shares in the first two hours. The total turnover for the week was verging on a record with Friday's trading still to come.

Golden lottery readied

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio lottery gave ticket buyers a golden chance today in a new game patterned after December's holiday bonus system that boosted sales sharply when first presented.

Beginning Feb. 4, lottery tickets will have two additional numbers that mean up to a 16-ounce pound of gold when matched with the weekly selection on Feb. 13. The plan is to continue through the March 6 drawing for which ticket sales end March 4.

Lottery officials said winners will receive a check for an amount equal to the value of the golden prize, based on the opening sale price of gold on the London market on Feb. 4.

The additional numbers each will have six digits, such as 029220, one set on the upper left of a ticket and one set on the upper right. Matching the set on the left will win an ounce of gold; matching the set on the right will win the pound of gold—actually, the cash equivalent and not the gold itself in each case.

"While sales of lottery tickets have steadily increased since the highly successful holiday bonus, the commission decision to offer additional incentives on a regular basis will continue," the Ohio Lottery Commission said in announcing the new game.

Winning numbers in the Gold Rush '75 game will be selected each Thursday as part of the regular weekly drawings, the commission said.

The holiday bonus plan gave ticketholders two additional chances with prizes of $1,000 or $2,000 respectively. Sales shot to 4.4 million tickets for the first week, up from the lottery's worst week when 2.7 million tickets were purchased. Sales then declined slowly until Jan. 3, when they started upward again and continued to the current period.

Rocky raps Congress

MILLBURN, N.J. (AP) — Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller says Congress has jeopardized U.S. trade agreements with the Soviet Union and oil-producing nations.

During a vigorous defense of President Ford's domestic and foreign policy here Wednesday, Rockefeller accused Congress of second-guessing the President's foreign policy at the risk of harming U.S. treaty negotiations.

Rockefeller also defended the administration's energy policies and Ford's request for an additional $30 million for ammunition and supplies for South Vietnam.

Rockefeller said the money was intended to fulfill a pledge already approved by Congress to provide up to $1 billion for South Vietnam.

"We have a moral obligation. The South Vietnamese are running out of ammunition," he said. "It isn't the question of a new decision."

Rockefeller spoke at a GOP fund-raising dinner.

School measure OKd by House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Senate today was to receive a House-passed bill allocating a $91.3 million budget surplus for Ohio's public schools, but the legislation could be headed for a veto by GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes.

House Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg, said Wednesday — after a two-hour floor fight that ended with 63-35 House approval — that he has "advised him (Rhodes) to veto it if it comes to him in this manner."

Kurfess led a lengthy GOP floor fight against the measure during which three GOP floor amendments, seeking to put the bill in the shape Rhodes wants it, went down to defeat along party lines.

Democrats control the House 59-40 and the Senate 21-12, but are one vote shy of having enough to override a gubernatorial veto in the lower chamber. An override takes three-fifths majorities in each House.

The fight centered about Republican efforts to earmark the surplus state funds for teacher and school employee salaries, and Democratic insistence that the funds be divided among the state's 613 school districts "to spend anyway they want," as House Finance Chairman Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, put it.

Rhodes' proposal would mean $650 per teacher, $300 for each professional school employee and $375 per non-certified school employee. Payments would be made in June.

The Democratic plan, which is expected to clear the Senate next Tuesday or Wednesday, would give each school district $40 more per pupil. Payments would start at the end of March and be made in monthly installments, ending in June.

Five Republican House members bolted ranks and joined Democrats in support of the bill, apparently as a result of pressure from school officials back home. Among them was Rep. Rodney H. Hughes, R-78 Bellefontaine, whose district has a school that had to shut down late last year for lack of funds.

Jackson lays campaign plans

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — On the night of Feb. 6, following the CBS Thursday Night Movie, Sen. Henry M. "Scoop" Jackson of Washington will give the nation the unsurprising news he is a candidate for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination.

For Jackson, his formal announcement will make little difference in a campaign that has been going on ever since the 1972 Democratic nominating convention.

There has been no question for months that the 62-year-old Jackson, long a Senate power, would try again for the presidency despite a 1972 bid that flopped.

Many party leaders consider him the front-runner, although his 10 per cent rating in the latest Gallup Poll puts him in fourth spot behind Gov. George C. Wallace, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. George McGovern, the latter two noncandidates.

Because of that status, and the fact that he is deeply involved in the congressional work, Jackson's activities after Feb. 6 won't be much different than they have been for the past year.

"His best platform is the Senate. He's going to operate from that position," said Robert G. Keefe, the former executive director of the Democratic National Committee who became political director of the Jackson Planning Committee on Dec. 1.

Keefe worked in 1972 for Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and for the AFL-CIO effort to stop McGovern.

Jackson, meanwhile, will continue to challenge the oil companies and the Ford administration as chairman of the Interior Committee and the Permanent Investigations subcommittee.

He'll continue his efforts for increased Jewish emigration from Russia despite the Soviet blast at his amendment in the trade act that tied concessions to Russia to the easing of restrictions against emigration.

On the Armed Services Committee, meanwhile, Jackson will be busily challenging the new U.S.-Soviet arms limitation understanding on grounds it sets proposed missile limits too high.

These activities will assure continued appearances by Jackson on the nation's television screens, after his Feb. 6 announcement.

With a higher "recognition factor" already than his most active 1976 rivals, Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona, former Gov. Jimmy Carter of Georgia and Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen of Texas, he won't have to spend the year trying to get known.

"We hope to use this year largely for raising money," Keefe said, noting that the Jackson Planning Committee already has raised some $1.25 million from 28 states, the broadest financial base of any presidential hopeful besides Wallace.

Beyond that, Keefe said, Jackson will compete in a number of presidential primaries — which ones depends on the schedule — and he acknowledged their importance.

"It's important that Henry Jackson show well in early primaries," Keefe said. "Based on the fact of the 1972 experience, that's something we're now forced to demonstrate."

He noted that in his home state of Washington, Jackson has always been a big vote-getter, winning 87 per cent in the primary and 82 per cent in the general election in 1970.

In 1972, however, Jackson managed only 13 per cent of the vote in a third-place finish in the Florida primary after a heavy effort. He did even more poorly in Wisconsin and Ohio and dropped out of the race, only to wind up second at the nominating convention when the anti-McGovern faction united behind him.

"Conditions in 1976 appear to be much different than in 1972," Keefe said, noting that Jackson was underfunded in 1972 and was competing with the better-known Sens. Edmund S. Muskie and Humphrey for the support of party regulars, old-line labor leaders and the influential Jewish contributors in New York, California and Florida who mainly backed Humphrey.

Shakeup in the House

The public has an important stake in the shifts of power that have brought fresh leadership to several key committees in the House of Representatives. We have witnessed the grandest shakeup in decades, a shakeup which has greatly weakened the pernicious seniority system.

For a very long time that system has rewarded longevity rather than competence in office. By means of it, powerful committee chairmen have become more and more securely entrenched as the years passed.

Now, thanks to a reform movement given new vitality by freshman members of the House, the custom of assigning chairmanships on the basis of seniority has been shaken to its foundations. There are grounds for hoping that the system will not soon recover. Indeed, if the momentum of reform is not lost we may yet see the House formally reject seniority as a major determinant of influence.

The above remarks should not be taken as suggesting that experience has no positive value; of course it does. Experience can still be taken into consideration, however, without slavish adherence to a seniority system which placed a higher premium on coming from a "safe" district than on capability.

THESE DAYS . . . By John Chamberlain

Fuel for thought

No matter whether Congress accepts President Ford's oil import fee or decides to ration fuel at present prices, the result could be the same. The U.S. is, for better or worse, a predominantly suburban civilization utterly dependent for the near future on whatever automobiles and trucks Detroit has seen fit to give us.

We can change over a five-year span, but if our decentralized population is to be kept going, with dad driving to the station and the kids being bused to school and mom patronizing the shopping center and the news trucks distributing the papers for the paper boys to deliver to the houses and the tanker trucks carrying gas to the service stations and the raw materials going to the factories over the throughways (I could keep spinning out this sentence until a new President is elected), there can be little immediate change in the amount of fuel consumed. Price will not be a great consideration, and if rationing is preferred there will be chaos to the extent that it is stringently enforced.

Nobody in Washington has yet thought this fuel business through. But there are people outside the bewildered confines of Federalia who know that American industry is based on an established level of vehicular fluidity and that it can't be changed without a radical departure from all the patterns of the past three-quarters of a century. At high interest rates the capital investment needed to revive the railroads, and to send thousands of people back into the central city, won't be ready in a hurry. You can't disassemble Bronxville (or any other suburban community) and rebuild New York City's borough of the Bronx in a year, or even a decade. We are talking about a generation when we indulge in speculation that the central city and mass transit represent the way of the future.

The National Federation of Independent Business has assembled some interesting figures about the dependence of existing enterprises on a steady supply of gasoline and diesel fuel. Based on a survey on energy use conducted by Faculty Associates of California, the Federation says that independent business "has need to operate 15,700,000 automobiles, 14,000,000 trucks and buses and 5,800,000 other vehicles such as fork lifts, graders, tractors and other internal combustion equipment."

Rewriting of rape statutes is urged

By ROBERT E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William J. Brown wants the legislature to rewrite Ohio's rape statutes so that "the victim will be treated as a victim and not a criminal."

He also wants new laws on the books to enable the attorney general's office to move against organized crime and to compensate the victims of crime.

Brown, who started his second four-year term Jan. 13, said he intends to push for enactment of a comprehensive drug reform law he sent to the 110th General Assembly last year.

That measure, which passed the House but died in the Senate, sets sentences not subject to suspension or probation for drug pushers, and also has as a major thrust a broad program to rehabilitate drug users.

In his inaugural address, Brown said programs he is sending to the 1975 legislature are the most significant ever forwarded to the legislature.

Brown said he would like to see a new rape statute "with particular emphasis on more humane treatment of victims."

Because of existing shortcomings in the law, he said, about 50 per cent of the rapes that occur in Ohio are never reported. At the same time, he said rapes throughout the country have increased 80 per cent in the last seven years.

His legislation would place greater emphasis on the victim's testimony, exclude a victim's prior sexual record from evidence except in narrowly delineated circumstances, and mandate sentences for second offenders.

Brown plans to ask for a new law empowering the attorney general to request statewide or multi-county grand juries to investigate organized crime, and another statute allowing reasonable compensation for the victims of crime.

A new law that went into effect Jan. 1 provides compensation for those injured seeking to prevent a crime "but specifically exempts the victim," Brown pointed out.

"Our society spends tremendous sums of money on behalf of persons accused of crimes, but the victims generally are left to fend for themselves," he said.

Brown's legislative package also will include several amendments to the 1972 Consumer Sales Practices Act, most important of which would bring the sale and rental of real estate under its provisions, he said.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Free to leave him, and she should

DEAR ABBY: I have been living with Don for two years. I am 22 and he is 25.

I hear girls at the office talking about bringing covered dishes to family gatherings, going to his folks' or hers for dinner, or for the weekend, or the holidays, and I get more heartsick every day.

I've begun to realize what marriage is all about. It's really belonging to someone who loves you enough to want to make you a member of his family.

Don is always telling me what a wonderful arrangement we have, and how much he loves me.

The past several months, I've been asking myself: "If it's so wonderful and he loves me so much, why do we lie, sneak around and let people assume we are married?"

Why doesn't he ask me to marry him, and become a member of his family? They don't even know I exist.

HEARTSICK
DEAR HEARTSICK: Because he doesn't want a legal commitment. And if he is able to get all the benefits of marriage with none of the responsibilities, who can blame him? I am assuming he didn't kidnap you. You agreed to live with him without marriage. You walked into it of your own free will, and you're free to walk out. Why don't you? I think you're ready.

DEAR ABBY: Is it unmannerly for a girl to wear a hat or a knitted covering on her head when she's inside a building?

Our principle always asks the girls and boys both to remove their hats when they are in school.

He said that someone should write to DEAR ABBY and ask about it, and if you said it was all right, he would ask the boys only to remove their hats when they're inside the building.

He said he didn't believe that anyone would write to you and ask. WELL, I'm writing.

OKLAHOMA STUDENT
DEAR STUDENT: Customs, rules and traditions are made up by those in authority, and they differ drastically. (In some houses of worship it's considered disrespectful to wear a hat. In others, the head must be covered. In some schools, all that's required of the students is that they come with the HEADS on . . . and what's ON their heads is no consequence.)

Your principle should know the rules of your school and so should you. Obey the rules. If they're unfair or pointless—change the rules.

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading your column for years, but never thought I'd be writing to you.

Now my problem: A close relative of mine recently married. The wedding was out of state so we didn't attend, but we sent a wedding present that cost over $100.

Today, I received a letter from the bride's mother. Along with it, she sent five pictures of the wedding. She wrote, "The pictures are $1 each. You can square it with us later." In other words, "pay up."

Abby, I think this is in very poor taste. In fact, I have never heard of "selling" wedding pictures to close relatives.

Should I return the pictures and send her five dollars? Or just keep the pictures and not send anything?

STUNNED
DEAR STUNNED: Return the pictures with a note thanking her for "sharing" them with you.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "RED":
You're right. I was unfair to redheads. I should have said, "Never tell a redhead OR A BLONDE, OR A BRUNETTE that you love her unless you intend to marry her." (And you can throw in those ladies with the new, two-tone jobs, too.)

Engagements announced

MISS TERRY WILLIAMS

MISS SUSAN K. DUNDON

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Dundon of New Holland have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Susan Kay, to Joe Vernon Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jordan Jr., Rt. 3, Washington C.H.

Miss Dundon is a graduate of Miami Trace High School and is presently a junior in the School of Nursing at Ohio State University.

Her fiancé, a graduate of Jeffersonville High School, is engaged in farming.

The wedding will be an event of March 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Williams of near Washington C.H., announce the engagement of their daughter, Terry, to Rocky Joe Martindale. Miss Williams, a senior at Miami Trace High School, is employed at Hidy's Super Market.

Her fiancé, a senior at Laurel Oaks in Wilmington, is also employed at Greenline.

The couple is planning a June wedding.

'A Thread of Blue Denim' reviewed for Progress Club

After singing "Happy Birthday" to the very competent secretary, Miss Helen Fults, the meeting of the Jeffersonville Progress Club began its meeting with the poem, "The Old Dinner Bell," read by Mrs. John Sheeley, president of the club. Eleven members answered roll call by naming a blue denim style, which ranged from overalls, shoulder bags, pant suits, down to denim boots.

Mrs. Wayne Dowler presented the review of the evening, "A Thread of Blue Denim," written by Patricia Leimbach, who lives with her farmer husband and three sons at "End O' Way Farm" at Vermillion.

"A Thread of Blue Denim" is a blueprint for full living—a farm wife's ways to steal time over, under, and around the press of daily responsibilities—time for love, fulfillment, beauty and renewal of self.

When reading the book, one leaves the glass and steel "civilization" of strangers and enters the intimate communion with the land which all crave, share spring and dawn and harvest thoughts, gardening and meadow walks.

During the social hour, Mrs. Charles Seibert, hostess for the evening, served a dessert course. The guest's napkins, which carried out the denim patchwork design, were very appropriate for the evening.

American Association of Blood Banks, a nonprofit association, is the world's largest organization devoted exclusively to blood banking and transfusion services.

Arts & Crafts Club meets

A most interesting afternoon was spent by members of the Arts and Crafts Club when met for the monthly meeting, with Mrs. Leo Edwards, hostess.

Mrs. Gilbert Biddle, president, conducted a brief business meeting, and heard reports from various committees and ideas were accepted for the 1975-76 yearbooks that will be assembled by the program committee.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Edwards, who instructed members in painting ceramic articles that had been fired. Each member chose several small items to paint and antique and at the close of the session, Mrs. Edwards served refreshments.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Joseph Herbert in Good Hope, Feb. 18.

Silver Belles Grandmothers Club meets

Eleven members of the Silver Belles Grandmothers Club met in the home of Mrs. Florence Bethard for a carry-in luncheon and meeting. Pledges to the American and Christian flags were made and Mrs. Ted Merritt read Psalm 117, "Old Year Remarks" and a "New Year's Prayer."

Mrs. Philip Ford, president, conducted the business meeting when various reports were made. Cards for the ill were signed and the national theme of "Golden Rule in Deed and Thought" was announced.

Subscription dues for the magazine, "Autumn Leaves" are due this coming month. Mrs. Edith Scott read several appropriate poems. The next meeting will take place Feb. 25 at 2 p.m. in the Jefferson Inn in Jeffersonville. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Jean Warner and Mrs. Nathan Ervin.

Those present were Mrs. Bethard, Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Roy Smith, Mrs. Eunice Draper, Mrs. Esther Edwards, Mrs. Merritt, Mrs. Verna Grim, Mrs. William Rockhold, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Minnie Fackler and Mrs. Olive Brookover.

Maple Grove Women hold all-day meet

Mrs. John D. Louis was hostess Wednesday when the Maple Grove United Methodist Women met for an all-day meeting. A carry-in luncheon was enjoyed at the noon hour and Mrs. Wilbur Chaplin gave the invocation. She also conducted the business meeting in the afternoon and Mrs. Harold Craven presented devotions. Mrs. Neil Rowland gave a prayer of Missionaries having birthdays this month, and members answered roll call with their idea of what "Human Relations" means.

Yearly reports were heard and prayer partners were revealed; new ones for 1975 were drawn.

Members attending the Church Women United meeting in First Baptist Church were Mrs. Carey Daugherty, Mrs. Harold Craven, Mrs. Chaplin and Mrs. Marion Dawson, at which time Mrs. Daugherty from the Society was installed as project secretary.

Present for the all-day meeting were Mrs. Clyde Carman, Mrs. John Rowland, Mrs. Quinn Clarke, Mrs. Ottie Huff, Mrs. Neil Rowland, Mrs. Locie Eckle, Mrs. Daugherty, Mrs. Craven, and Mrs. Clark Davis of Columbus, a guest, and the hostess, Mrs. Louis.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL W. WATKINS

Former resident takes bride in Morristown, Tenn.

Miss Susan Ann Hastings became the bride of Michael Wayne Watkins in the First Presbyterian Church in Morristown, Tenn. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hastings of 1486 Darbee Drive, Morristown, Tenn., formerly of Washington C.H., and the parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Watkins of Johnson City, Tenn. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. William E. Hastings of 123 N. Hinde St.

Dr. Byron Waitts officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Potted palms and a tree candelabra enhanced the altar. Wedding selections were presented by Mrs. John Johnson at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pale beige voile gown, with wide flounce at the hemline. The V-neck bodice and wide capelet sleeves were of lace, with a matching lace hood. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and carnations.

BS TROOP 229

The meeting of Boy Scout Troop 229 was called to order in Grace United Methodist Church and the group discussed the Klondike Derby, which took place last weekend. Next month's activities were also discussed and arrangements made for a trip to the Center of Science and Industry Feb. 15. Two patrols were formed and each held a brief meeting to select patrol names and officials.

Scout Troop 229 is open to any boy wishing to join Scouting. Meetings are at 7 p.m. Tuesdays in Grace United Methodist Church.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It was a cold, grey day when I arrived at NBC to see "Archer," a new private eye series they say is on TV tonight. I was curious about it because I'm in the private eye game myself.

I had a whiskey, punched a guy tailing me, glommed a secretary and made sure my shoulder holster was tight. Then I entered the screening room. It was quiet there. Too quiet. You could hear a pin drop.

The show started. It was still too quiet. A guy called Brian Keith, about 45, stocky, with straight teeth and a crooked smile, played Lew Archer. The credits said Lew Archer is a gumshoe created by Ross MacDonald, who writes books. So far, so good, I thought. It was then I heard the pin drop. It fell as these wealthy parents were telling Archer they'd gotten a letter from their 22-year-old son. He was doing 20 years in a Turkish slammer on a drug rap.

Somebody picked up the pin and muttered, "Excuse me." I paid no attention. The son's letter was more important at the time.

It said he could bribe his way out of jail if they'd give 50 big ones to a guy named Androcles, who was acting as a courier. The parents hired Archer to tail Androcles in case it was a flim-flam.

It was a flim-flam, a serious one. Archer learned the kid was not in jail. The kid was in an underground radical group called "Lovers of the Earth." At least, that was the name on the group's VW bus.

The bus was at a Beverly Hills mansion surrounded by an electrified fence and guarded by two black watchdogs. The group and the mansion were run by a fuzzy-haired radical Archer knew was really a con man.

Only this customer was no ordinary bunco artist. He got his rich-kid, dogood followers to put the bite on their folks for big dough, using the old jail gag. Then he bumped them off.

It was quite a scam. He told the kids, who seemed to be nudging 30, he wanted to redistribute the world's resources.

Archer decided to straighten him out. He got a pal to infiltrate the group. The pal was young, wealthy and fuzzy-haired. He was also the editor of a radical underground paper called "Underground."

If you watch this show tonight, you'll learn the rest. Maybe.

At the end, I had a whiskey, punched a guy tailing me, glommed a secretary and made sure my shoulder holster was tight. Then I left the screening room. But something kept bothering me.

It was the pin. The one I heard drop in the screening room. I went back and found the guy who'd picked it up. He gave it to me. I took it to the police lab for analysis. Something was on the head of the pin.

Lt. Cofnowsky, a friend from the old days, gave me the report.

"It's the plot of a show called 'Archer,'" he said.

Sen. Taft in hospital for tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, was reported resting comfortably after being admitted to Bethesda Naval Hospital on Wednesday suffering chest discomfort.

Nick Basso, an aide to the senator, said Taft was resting comfortably and was in good spirits.

Basso said the senator's hospitalization was precautionary. He will undergo tests and is expected to be released Friday or Saturday, Basso said.

The hospital said preliminary tests showed no evidence of coronary complications. The hospital said Taft was fatigued.

Basso said the senator has been under a strain since a plane crash Saturday which killed three close friends whom he had invited to a Washington banquet.

Taft returned to Washington Tuesday night after attending funeral services in Columbus, Ohio, for Edgar T. Wolfe Jr., publisher of The Columbus Dispatch; Carlton Dargusch Jr., a Columbus attorney and Frederick LeVeque, a real estate executive.

Earlier Wednesday, Taft had introduced Betty Southard Murphy of Columbus to the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee. She has been nominated by President Ford to the National Labor Relations Board.

He also introduced Secretary James Lynn of the Department of Housing and Urban Development to the Senate Government Operations Committee. The President has nominated Lynn to head the Office of Management and Budget.

Afterwards, Taft returned to his office, where he noticed the chest discomfort.

Senate physician Dr. Freeman H. Cary recommended he be admitted to Bethesda for routine tests.

The most recent reports from the FBI indicate that the rate of serious crime continues to drop in most Ohio cities despite slight increases nationally.

5 GOP members join with Demos on school bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Five Republican House members defected from their ranks and voted with Democrats Wednesday as the House approved 63-35 a major bill appropriating a $91.3 million budget surplus for Ohio's 613 school districts.

At the same time, one Democrat—Rep. Irene B. Smart, D-49 Canton—joined dissenting Republicans against the measures which runs counter to a spending proposal offered Tuesday by GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Defecting Republicans were Reps. Michael A. Fox, R-58 Hamilton; Rodney Hughes, R-78 Bellefontaine; Bob McEwen, R-77 Hillsboro; Corwin Nixon, R-73 Lebanon, and William Donham, R-57 Middletown.

Rep. Frank Mayfield Jr., R-65 Cincinnati, was the only member of the 99-member House recorded as not voting.

Miss Dill gives special instruction

Dear teacher, dear class

BY LEWIS PARRETT
Elementary Coordinator

This week we are featuring Miss Debbie Dill of Eastside School and her special education class of fifteen boys and girls.

The Washington C. H. School District is quite aware of this young lady's special ability to work with boys and girls who can make good school progress and enjoy achievement only if led by an understanding, energetic organizer and planner who has specialized in teaching such a group.

Following the progress of her groups over the past three years she has been with the city schools, school administrators were not surprised at the honor awarded her last week by the Washington C. H. Jaycees when they named her this year's outstanding young educator. Perhaps this feeling is best summarized by her principal, Rodger Mickle, who had this to say of Miss Dill's teaching, "It is certainly a privilege for the Washington C. H. City Schools and Eastside in particular to have the outstanding young educator in Fayette County. From working closely with her, I know the award is richly deserved. Congratulations, Miss Dill!"

Miss Dill is really quite a modest young lady and learned her quiet, hard working traits while growing up on a dairy farm, 10 miles east of Sidney, Ohio. She graduated from Graham High School in St. Paris, Ohio. The next fall, she entered Miami University and majored in education. Four years later in 1972 she graduated at Miami University as a specialist in E.M.R. special education and moved to Washington C. H. where she has been our intermediate E.M.R. teacher ever since. Her first two years were at Rose Avenue Elementary School and this year at Eastside Elementary School where her class was transferred during the summer.

Her pupils come from all over the city. They are special children who qualify for her class because of their special needs which she meets with highly individualized instruction. The children are within a four year age range and are in a complete program which can lead to a high school diploma even though they are designated now as intermediate E.M.R. with no grade placement indicated. Through Miss Dill's efforts her children are working, learning, and improving to the point that one can foresee her school graduates in the future instead of dropouts.

Miss Dill resides at 258 North Bend Court, and enjoys her hobbies of sewing and crocheting. Her favorite colors are brown and blue, and her favorite foods are Italian. In previous summers she has enjoyed two years of cooking at 4-H Camp Clifton. Last summer she taught a head start class in Bloomingburg.

In her typical modest fashion, Miss Dill reveals her future plans with the simple statement, "I will be getting married in June to Eric Cantor of Cincinnati. Eric teaches math at Forest Park Middle School in Cincinnati." Our best wishes certainly go with this young lady.

During her open visitation week of Feb. 3-7 her group will be studying communication as well as the usual language arts and mathematics. You might even find her group doing exercises or tumbling in the gym. The best time to visit is from 9 until 11 a.m. and from 12:45 until 2:30 p.m. The host and hostess for the week are Anthony Mickle and Sally Cottrell.

With a small class, Miss Dill is able to remember everyone's birthday with a cake. Sometimes they put away their work and cook their own breakfast in the room. Perhaps Dianne Leach and Wayne Smith best summarize the impact of this class upon their lives when they say, "We like special education because it is fun."

Layoffs hurting health industry

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Many thousands of jobless workers already have lost or soon will lose their protection against medical expenses because of termination clauses in their health insurance contracts.

Although some large national Blue Cross plans, such as in the steel, automotive, telephone and oil industries, continue protection from four months to a year, the majority of plans protect the jobless worker for only 30 days.

The situation, which has gone relatively unnoticed, could cause severe personal hardship for the families of the unemployed as well as for many financially strained hospitals. Already, said Alex McMahon, president of the American Hospital Association, medical institutions are preparing "get sick now, pay later"

Latta wants shops closed on Sundays

NAPOLEON, Ohio (AP)—Rep. Delbert Latta, R-Ohio, has proposed that shopping centers close one day a week and auto emission equipment be removed in areas where it's not needed.

Latta made the suggestions Wednesday as fuel conservation methods. He said closing shopping centers would save natural gas, while removing the auto emission control devices would conserve gasoline.

He said he made the same suggestions during meetings with Frank Zarb, administrator of the Federal Energy Administration. His meeting with Zarb followed a session with officials of natural gas companies serving Ohio, he said.

"Their problems are real," Latta said. "We hear a lot of chatter that all they want to do is get deregulation of price at the wellhead."

"But if they would decontrol within the next six to 12 months, the minimum lead time for increased supply would be about four to five years," he said.

"We're not at the end of those cut-backs," Latta said. "I would like to see consideration to close some of our shopping centers on Sundays... in order to keep our school districts open."

Latta also said proposals to postpone new auto emission standards do not go far enough.

"It seems to me we ought to back up and take some of these gadgets off the cars where they're not needed," Latta said. "They're using a lot of precious fuel with those gadgets."

Latta made the comments during an interview with radio station WNDH in Napoleon in his home district.

Blaze hits in Maumee

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — About 1,000 persons in suburban Maumee were evacuated from their homes Wednesday night because of fumes being emitted by a fire in a fertilizer storage tank.

Officials said the fumes apparently were not lethal.

A spokesman for the tank firm, The Anderson's, said the fire broke out in a tank containing 1,500 tons of European fertilizer which was a blend of nitrogen, phosphorous and potash.

The American Red Cross set up a shelter in an elementary school to accommodate 2,000 people.

The fire, which firemen brought under control, was believed to have started by an electrical malfunction. Damage was estimated at $200,000.

Youth arrested in fatal holdup

GRIFFIN, Ga. (AP)—Otis Berry, 19, of Griffin has been charged with armed robbery and murder in the death of a store clerk killed during a liquor store holdup, police said Wednesday.

Robert Beatty, 53, of Griffin, apparently chased the robber out of the store and was shot twice, police said.

The holdup occurred Tuesday night. Police said Beatty's body was found about 25 yards from the store. He was taken to Griffin Spalding Hospital where he died about midnight.

plans. Some hospitals will be badly pinched, he said.

The problem is worsened by the tendency of individuals to get sick more often during times of recession and unemployment, according to a study made by Blue Cross.

McMahon said the hospital industry as a whole could meet the challenge, but said many institutions will have to borrow, postpone improvements, and reduce research and community activities.

There could be some deterioration in the quality of care, he said.

"We already have told hospitals to be very careful about committing their money," McMahon said. "We can't manufacture it." While inequitable, he said some hospitals might have to raise charges for patients able to pay.

The failure to protect laid-off workers during a time of financial stress seems to be a serious oversight on the part of unions, legislators and insurance officials, although most proposals for a national health insurance program contain remedies.

At the moment, however, three alternatives are open to the worker threatened with loss of hospital and medical insurance: 1. He or she can convert from company group coverage to nongroup individual coverage.

A Blue Cross study of 74 Blue Cross plans showed 38 offer a laid-off worker a conversion policy with the same benefits. In 36 plans the workers obtain less comprehensive coverage.

2. The jobless worker can apply for Medicaid. Eligibility varies from state to state, as do benefits.

3. If unable to qualify either for insurance or Medicaid, a jobless worker and his family can use the emergency rooms, clinics and outpatient departments of voluntary and municipal hospitals.

Leesburg area student heads college horse barn

WILMINGTON — Bruce Payton has been appointed student manager of the horse barn at Wilmington College. The appointment was announced by Gerald L. Karr, chairman of the agriculture department at Wilmington College. Payton who is a junior at Wilmington, will supervise the college-owned horse herd of 10, including six Arabians. The appointment is effective through the remainder of the current academic year. Payton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Payton, Rt. 2, Leesburg. He was graduated from Fairfield High School, in Leesburg, in 1972. He has worked with horses for 12 years and has professionally shown and trained Arabians for the past two years. The Wilmington College horse management program is offered through the college's department of agriculture. Wilmington College is the only private college in Ohio to offer an accredited degree in agriculture. Instruction in the horse management program includes basic and advanced basic equitation in forward seat, stock seat and saddle seat. More experienced students receive instruction in jumping and advanced horsemanship. The central focus of the program is the horse management course, which directs the student toward the practical problems of the horse industry, including breeding, nutrition, genetics, selection, stable design, and health care. The broader equine science program at the college is supported by additional course work in animal science, animal nutrition, forage and grain crops, genetics, and animal physiology. It is possible for a student to design an individualized academic program in equine studies using combinations of agriculture, science, business, and physical education. Wilmington College is located in one of Ohio's more important horse-raising areas. The state as a whole ranks third in horse population in the United States.

FFA alumni chartered

Members of the Miami Trace Future Farmers of America alumni chapter attended a state conference at Westerville High School recently. James Dougan, assistant director of vocational education for agricultural education in Ohio, said the purpose of the conference was to assist in developing the quantity and quality of alumni affiliates throughout Ohio. With the number and quality of vocational agriculture and FFA programs in the state, it is understandable that FFA alumni want to organize and assist their local FFA chapter, he said. Ohio is among the leading states in the National FFA alumni movement. The local FFA alumni affiliate was one of the first to be chartered in Ohio. Several activities of the group include assisting the local FFA with activities, providing shop projects for members, and assist with judging of various activities. The overall objective of the alumni movement is to give assistance in any way possible to the local high school vocational agriculture and FFA program in the preparation of local students for careers in agriculture.

The Miami Trace FFA alumni has 26 active members. Officers elected include Scott Jenks, president; Mark Beam, vice president; Mike Campbell, secretary; John Hiser, treasurer, and Bob Rea and Ted Waddle, directors.

Green Thumb worker attends Ohio Farmers Union meeting

A Fayette County participant in the Green Thumb senior citizens program has attended the Ohio Farmers Union convention. Warren O. Smith, involved in the Fayette County Community Action Commission senior citizens' nutrition program and several area beautification programs, met with other elderly citizens to discuss programs for the coming year. Green Thumb is a work program for elderly Americans, dedicated to keeping citizens active and productive in their later years. Administered by the National Farmers Union, Green Thumb workers cooperate with municipal and county governments to help beautify parks, assist in the renovation of city halls, construct hiking trails, and other public service jobs. John A. Baker, national executive vice president of Green Thumb, Inc., told Smith and the group that, "The biggest gap in rural development is the co-existence of thousands of idle, but willing, hands of older rural Americans alongside thousands of undone community improvements which local governments and civic organizations cannot get to because of inadequate budgets." Baker said that senior citizens do not benefit from idleness. They can be useful to our communities as well as develop a sense of pride in their work and earn needed extra income doing it. Green Thumb workers perform services at no charge to the community as their work is compensated by federal appropriations.

See need for clergy in health

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A "holistic clinic" approach for health care composed of a physician, nurse and trained clergyman is needed in every community, says Grange E. Westberg, a clergyman and teacher at the University of Illinois Medical School in Chicago.

Clergy should be involved in health care because illness stems from human spirit, Westberg said.

"General practitioners say 50 per cent of the patients they see really have problems of the human spirit which bring about illness," Westberg told several hundred pastors at a convention here.

"Because of that, I predict that clergy will be invited more and more on health teams," he said.

Westberg has been researching the relationship between health care and churches at the school.

Rail service

feasibility eyed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The feasibility of reinstituting passenger rail service between Ohio's major cities will be discussed at a public hearing in city council chambers Friday by the Legislative Service Commission Study Committee on Rapid Rail Transit.

At the 10 a.m. meeting, the Ohio Institute of Public Opinion will report on a poll and the Legislative Service Commission will explain findings of past meetings held around the state.

The first known American printing of the popular song "Yankee Doodle" was a part of Benjamin Carr's "Federal Overture" in Baltimore in 1795. The origin of the song is unknown.

Mideast peace hopes blossom

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Diplomats are becoming bolder these days in advancing the idea that there's some hope after all for peace in the Middle East.

The chorus of comment long has been almost unanimously gloomy about chances of averting a new round of Arab-Israeli war come spring.

Now, the key to a new sound of hope is President Anwar Sadat of Egypt. It's beginning to seem that because of Sadat's complex of problems, ambitions and attitudes, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is about to get a new opportunity to display his diplomatic dexterity. He expressed hope at a news conference Tuesday that a Sinai formula could be worked out, but cautioned against any expectations of immediate success from his next trip to the area.

Some outstanding Israelis, like former Defense Minister Moshe Dayan and former Foreign Minister Abba Eban, though both are now in opposition to the Israeli government, are themselves sounding more optimistic. Dayan recently told an interviewer he did not think another Middle East war was inevitable.

Evidently the problems of Sadat figure heavily in their calculations because a full-scale war without Egypt is hardly likely.

Sadat went to France this week and suddenly French President Valéry Giscard d'Estaing was in a position to provide what might be the ingredient that could help the cause of peace. Paradoxically, the ingredient could be French arms.

Eban, also in Paris, says he would deplore a French arms deal with Egypt. He would be more or less expected to say that. But this is one situation wherein such a deal might do more good than harm. The reasoning goes thus: Sadat has complained bitterly that the Russians won't supply him with up-to-date arms to make up for his losses in the 1973 war. They lavishly rearm his ally, Syria, and give Syria the sort of preferred treatment on its debts they withhold from Egypt.

But Moscow wants its quid pro quo: strong influence. The Kremlin wants to reinstall the thousands of military advisers Sadat ejected in mid-1972 and would like Sadat to show appreciation by lessening his antipathy to Communist political activity in his back yard.

If Sadat worked a deal with France he would have somewhere else to turn besides to the Soviet Union.

Ohio factory employment dips

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Employment in Ohio's factories dropped by 2.1 per cent from November to December, the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services has reported, while total employment in the state dropped by 0.7 per cent.

The bureau said in its monthly report that unemployment stood at 6.7 per cent of the state labor force in December. The Bureau estimated 323,000 persons were unemployed in December, compared to 291,000 in November.

The bureau said widespread cutbacks in manufacturing accounted for the loss. Total employment declined 0.7 per cent to 4.47 million.

Average earnings of production workers rose $4 a week to a record $222.32, the bureau said. The higher earnings were attributed to increased overtime as well as separation of lower-paid low-seniority workers in depressed industries.

In the Youngstown-Warren area, the bureau said, layoffs in the primary metals industry accounted for most of a 4.2 per cent drop in factory employment from November. Total non-agricultural employment in the area was estimated at 215,000, down 1.6 per cent from November.

In all the other seven areas surveyed by the bureau, manufacturing employment suffered from the slump.

In Columbus, cutbacks in electrical manufacturing, fabricated metals and transportation equipment resulted in a 2.3 per cent drop in manufacturing employment, to an estimated 84,000.

In Dayton, the slump in automotive component manufacturing accounted for most of a 2.2 per cent drop, to 113,000.

In Toledo, although settlement of a labor dispute resorted production in the important glass industry, manufacturing employment still dropped, 1.7 per cent, to an estimated 78,000.

Cleveland suffered a 1.4 per cent drop, to 275,000, in manufacturing employment, attributed mostly to layoffs in metal stampings and auto manufacturing industries, while in Cincinnati, employment dipped 1.6 per cent to 162,000.

Layoffs in primary metals and electrical equipment dropped factory employment in the Canton area by 1.1 per cent, to an estimated 60,000, while layoffs in the fabricated metals industry in Akron were cited as the principle cause of a 1.0 drop in factory employment.

Total nonagricultural employment also dropped throughout the state, though not as precipitously. Akron recorded a 0.4 per cent drop; Canton, 0.2; Cincinnati 0.1, Cleveland 0.2, and Columbus, Dayton and Toledo, all 0.5 per cent.

Hoosier jobless benefits extended

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indiana Employment Security Division will begin accepting unemployment insurance claims Monday for extended benefits.

Director John F. Coppes announced Wednesday that unemployed workers who have filed a claim for unemployment insurance since Feb. 10, 1974, and have exhausted all the benefits on the claim, may be eligible for additional payments.

DETROIT (AP) — Some financial analysts say the nation's slumping auto industry, traditionally among the most profitable in the world, may be operating in the red for the first time. Investment counselors for several large banks and brokerage houses predict that together the four major auto companies probably will lose money in the first quarter of 1975. A half-dozen analysts surveyed by

The Associated Press said they could not recall the industry as a whole reporting net losses in a quarter before, and certainly never in a nonstrike period. The analysts predict that General Motors Corp. this quarter will make no more than the $120 million it earned in the same period last year, its lowest return in 26 years. GM earned a record $2.4 billion in 1973.

The Ford Motor Co. is expected to lose between $75 million and $100 million this quarter, compared with a $124 million quarterly profit in 1974.

The analysts estimated Chrysler Corp. will lose at least $25 million and as much as $50 million this quarter. They made no predictions for American Motors Corp., the No. 4 auto maker, although they said AMC is expected to lose.

Combined 1974 profits of the Big Three are expected to be off about 65 per cent, to about $1.3 billion. GM, Ford and Chrysler had record combined profits of $3.6 billion on sales of $71 billion in 1973.

—In the wake of cancellation by the Soviet Union of orders for 3.7 million bushels of American wheat, Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz said the government plans to relax export curbs on wheat and soybeans. The restrictions were imposed in October because of fears heavy exports would bring on shortages and higher prices for Americans.

—Stock prices moved higher for the sixth straight day, with the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials up 11.19 to 705.96 at the close on Wednesday. It was first time since Aug. 22 that the Dow had closed over 700.

—A spokesman for the Commerce Department said the agency plans to revise its monthly index of leading economic indicators. He said the index had given only a faint warning in mid-1973 that recession was on the way, then at the start of 1974 the inflation factor turned the indicator sharply higher when it should have gone the other way.

—The Labor Department said 851,700 Americans filed new unemployment compensation claims during the week ending Jan. 18, compared with a record 970,000 filed the previous week and 464,300 during the same period a year ago.

—Chairman Walter B. Wriston of New York's First City National Bank predicted that by the end of the week the prime interest rate will be cut another one-quarter of one per cent from the generally prevailing 9½ per cent. The prime is the interest rate banks charge their best customers. It usually signals a trend in consumer loan rates.

Assembly pay raises pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Certain legislative leaders would get substantial increases in pay under a bill recommended for passage Wednesday by the Ohio Senate Ways and Means Committee.

Sen. David Headley, D-28 Barberton, the main sponsor, said the measure generally is to take care of lower echelon leaders who were left out of pay raises for the leadership and regular members that went into effect Jan. 1.

The Barberton attorney also pointed out that the persons now holding the offices involved would not qualify for the boosts unless re-elected to their posts again in 1976.

Nevertheless, the bill opens up the controversial arena of public officials' pay scales, and already there is a move to expand Headley's bill to include some leaders whose last pay raise is less than a month old.

Headley's bill, as amended before going to the Senate Rules Committee, includes an increase for the Senate majority whip from his regular members' pay of $17,500 to $20,000 a year, and a hike for the minority whip of the Senate from $17,500 to $18,500 a year.

The committee approved an amendment that would include a hike from $17,500 to $19,000 for the minority whip. His present salary is the same as all non-leader legislators of both chambers receive under the last pay bill that increased it from $14,000.

Ohio's Constitution prohibits lawmakers from voting pay raises for themselves during their present terms. Headley and others claim the proposed increases, because of inflation and other economic problems, could be inadequate before anyone receives them.

Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens, R-4 Middletown, a member of the Senate GOP leadership team for the first time, offered an amendment that would, among other things, boost the pay for his job — minority whip — to $21,000 instead of the $19,000 proposed in Headley's bill.

Lukens said his amendment is designed "to equalize" the pay of the legislature's leaders and to "provide pay for the work done." The committee did not act on his amendment, but left it in limbo pending consideration of the entire package by the Rules Committee and until consultations with House leaders.

Besides the pay for Senate minority whip, Lukens' amendment would have the House minority whip receive $21,000 instead of $19,000 proposed in the bill as it now stands.

Otherwise, Lukens would retain $25,000 for the speaker of the House and the president pro tem (majority leader) of the Senate.

However, he would boost the pay of the majority floor leader of the House from $22,500 to present to $24,000; that of the assistant majority leader of the House from $22,000 to $23,000, and that of the majority whips of the Senate and House from $17,500 to $21,000.

Minority leaders of the Senate and House would get $23,000 instead of $22,500, and assistant minority leaders of the Senate and House would receive $21,000 instead of $18,850.

Man charged

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP) — Anderson City Councilman Merle Jones, 35, was acquitted Wednesday night of two charges stemming from a fatal traffic accident.

The Henry Circuit Court jury convicted him of a third count in the indictment, however, driving under the influence of alcohol. It acquitted him of involuntary manslaughter and causing a death while driving under the influence.

Charles Smith, an Anderson police captain, was killed Aug. 28, 1973, when a car driven by Jones crashed in Anderson.

After a seven-day trial, the jury of nine men and three women deliberated 5½ hours. Jurors recommended a $250 fine and 15 days in jail. Judge Wesley Ratliff Jr. set next Wednesday for sentencing.

Raymond Brandt of Fort Wayne, a safety expert, testified for the defense that the accident was caused by a malfunctioning left wheel bearing.

Ohio West Virginia fight for plant

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Republican governors of West Virginia and Ohio have vowed a tough fight to get a $1.2 billion coal conversion plant planned for one of the states.

Officials of Coalcon, a seven-firm consortium headed by Union Carbide Corp., say they are studying specifications for the planned hydrocarbonization plant, for which the U.S. Interior Department two weeks ago awarded a contract, and will choose a site in either West Virginia or Ohio within nine months.

"I can't say I know where the plant will be built, because I don't," said West Virginia Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. "But in terms of coal supply, land, financial support and local interest, West Virginia is in a much stronger position than Ohio."

An aide for Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes said the governor will "do everything in his power to get the plant located in Ohio. If it comes down to a fight and we pit the full financial resources of Ohio against those of West Virginia, we don't think it will even be a contest."

Moore aide Norman Yost countered, "This is a fiscally sound administration. We don't throw money around, nor were we aware that this was a financial bidding contest.

"I think the decision of Coalcon's location will be decided on attributes other than wealth, and those with which the state of West Virginia is better endowed than Ohio. I predict Coalcon will be located in West Virginia," Yost said.

The close association between West Virginia and Union Carbide, which has plants in the Kanawha Valley, will help the Mountain State in the competition, Moore has said.

The political pressure from the two states has intensified, Coalcon officials admit.

Carl Strick, Coalcon marketing director, and Thomas Brotherton, business development vice president, are both based at Carbide's Technical Center in South Charleston.

They say project engineers are drawing up plant specifications which will outline land, water, coal and transportation requirements of the proposed plant and help Coalcon officials determine the most suitable locations.

Coalcon's report to the Interior Department listed Belmont County, Ohio, and Wood County as contending sites, although Moore said he expects several other communities in the state to submit formal proposals.

Shale development meeting scheduled

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A group of 75 coal and oil scientists meeting here this week are pinning their hopes on an $18 million grant to eliminate health hazards with the development of coal and shale oil energy.

Dr. Raymond R. Suskind, director of the University of Cincinnati Department of Health, said the group had an unique opportunity to eliminate cancer, lung and health hazards before production of shale oil and oil from coal begins on a big scale to solve the country's energy needs.

Dr. Eula Bingham Matheis, Suskind's associate, and an expert on coke, oil cracking and shale chemical emissions, noted that energy producing industries are very receptive to such research.

She said this has been brought about by new environmental laws and the cost of devising methods of production.

Suskind said it was learned during the seminar of 75 scientists from universities, industries and federal agencies that the $18 million will be available for new health programs related to energy expansion. At the same time, there will be no fund money for other new health programs.

Suskind said the conference had "the ear" of the government and the seminar's purpose was to define the areas where research is needed.

"He will work with any scientist anywhere," he said, adding that organized directions of research would be more economical than "each scientist or group determining his own path."

Among government agencies participating in the seminar were the Environmental Protection Agency, National Institute of Occupational Safety, Research and Development and Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Suskind said the conference had concluded that four areas must be defined:

The state of science in the production of shale oil.

The types of cancer which may be related to shale oil.

—Guidelines for studies to assess hazards, including new ways to determine black lung in miners.

—Analytical methods to discover and control chemicals which may be harmful, mostly from oil refineries, coke ovens and ovens used to cook oil from shale.

BABY ANN — Members of the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society are admiring "Baby Ann T. Cancer," a reproduction of the "Grace Putnam ByeLo Doll of the Twenties." Phi Beta Psi Sorority is donating the doll to the local cancer society for the "Craft for Cancer" booth, a feature of the fourth annual antique show, slated for

Cancer unit projects outlined

A number of annual events were scheduled and project chairmen named at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society board of directors.

Crusade chairman Tom Mark said Daffodil Day will be held March 21-22, Mrs. Harry Haines, philanthropic chairman of the Beta Omega chapter of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority, in charge; Mouse to College during March; Mrs. J. Talmadge Taylor, chairman; dessert smorgasbord April 24; Mrs. Bart Mahoney, chairman; crusade Sunday, April 27; and colon cancer screening clinic, May 4, Dr. Byers Shaw.

Mrs. Wesley Cox, chairman of the Christmas card sale, reported the unit netted $1,033. Mrs. Robert Antoine and Mrs. Joe Henry were named co-chairmen of the public education committee, and Mrs. Richard Wintringham and Mrs. Gene Donohoe were named sub-chairmen.

Mrs. William Fletcher and Mrs. Robert Willis will head the rural campaign; Mrs. Marty Reiff, residential; Bill Link, downtown businesses; Jim Wilson, other businesses; Don Stebleton, clubs and organizations; Tom Snyder, industries; Eddie Fisher, buckboards; John H. Roszmann, professional; David Looker, special gifts; Mrs. Hugh Wilson, memorials; and Mrs. Taylor, special events.

The county unit, which also accepted a donation of $2,500 from the Eymann Fund, is presently servicing eight patients by providing transportation to Columbus hospitals for treatment and supplying drugs, wheelchairs and beds.

State stimulation of economy eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A group of state lawmakers wants to determine whether Ohio, with some expert help, might be able to stimulate its economy without waiting for the federal government.

Chairman Arthur Wilkowski, D-46 Toledo, of the new House Committee on Economic Affairs and Federal Relations, says many businesses in Ohio might expand or provide more jobs "with just a little nudge" from the state government.

Wilkowski commented Wednesday night as his committee discussed the chairman's bill which would establish a seven-member "blue ribbon" panel of economic advisers for the General Assembly.

Citing one example, Wilkowski said only recently he learned that the Department of Economic and Community Development is in possession of $13 million in federal funds to create jobs in Ohio.

He said he understands the department is considering certain contracts with the Department of Natural Resources and the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

"But how do we, as members of the legislature, know that the money is going to be used to provide the greatest number of jobs and in the right areas?" he asked.

Rep. Casey Jones, D-45 Toledo, said he agreed with Wilkowski that the envisioned panel could help advise the legislature on ways to guide the economy "in the right direction", and in particularly what to do about such things as the effects of imports on Ohio business.

Net earnings reported

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Reynolds and Reynolds Co., producer of business forms and electronic data processing services, reported its net earnings for the first quarter ending Dec. 31 was $1,681,358, or 36 cents a share, compared with a net profit a year earlier of $1,515,514, or 32 cents a share.

"Here's the deal. First, make your best deal with The Dodge Boys. Then Dodge can send you a check for $300."
Joe Garagiola

Listen to ol' Joe G. I'm gonna tell you how to make the deal of a lifetime on the "Dodge of the Week." Right now, during the Car Clearance Carnival at the Dodge Boys.

Here's how:
Every week from now till February 16, the Dodge Boys will pick one gorgeous Dodge as "Dodge of the Week." Could be a Monaco. A Dart. A Coronet. Even a pickup or van. Now you hustle down and make the Dodge Boys give you their best deal on that Dodge. Then, find out how you collect your check from Dodge for at least $200. But there's more. Trade in the right car on the "Dodge of the Week," and you get a $100 trade-in bonus. That's a total of $300!

But there's more to the Car Clearance Carnival than "Dodge of the Week" deals. Through February 28, the Dodge Boys are offering other great deals on all '75 Dodges. They've got a lot of cars to move. And they're gonna move 'em. And—even if you don't end up buying a new Dodge, you might end up driving one. Just by entering the Dodge Boys' Clearance Sweepstakes.² Each sweepstakes winner (and there'll be plenty—so one could be you) gets free use of a brand-new Dodge for one whole year. You've got nothing to lose. All you gotta do is come in for full details.

But hurry. If you're not driving a new Dodge by the end of the Car Clearance Carnival, it won't be the Dodge Boys' fault.

¹Sorry, only one "Dodge of the Week" deal per customer. Retail customers only.
²Sweepstakes ends: February 28, 1975. Void in states where prohibited by law. Open only to licensed drivers 18 years old or older.

Town looks to Frank for everything

DONNELLSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — "I ain't bragging," said John Frank with a wide grin, "but this town looks to me for everything."

Frank, 69, has been the fire chief in Donnelsville for 31 years. He also was police chief for 30 years until his retirement last June.

Donnelsville has a population of 278. Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R-Ohio, presided at his retirement party. He received more than 200 cash gifts from grateful residents. He's proud that they're all his friends.

"I know everybody for eight or nine miles around here, and I never had to manhandle anybody," Frank said.

"Oh, there was some young ones who would give you trouble. When a ruckus started, the sheriff's officers would come, and the boys would say, 'John, if you'll come along with me, I'll get into the patrol car without a fuss.'"

One time Frank attempted to close down the town's only tavern at midnight, the legal closing time, rather than the accustomed 3 a.m. The tavern owner threatened Frank with a knife. Word of the incident spread, and the aroused village quickly voted the town dry, shutting the tavern for good.

"I got a lot of friends around here, don't think I don't," he said.

Donnelsville is a village on U.S. 40 about five miles west of Springfield. U.S. 40 was one of the main cross-country highways in the days before interstates, and parents worried about the heavy traffic. That prompted Frank to start the police and fire departments in 1944.

"PTA mothers came to me with tears in their eyes. They were afraid for their children," Frank recalled.

Around the area, Frank is known as a compassionate man. But his compassion has gotten him into trouble.

When he stopped a driver and wrote a ticket, the driver sometimes would confess he had no money for bond.

"I had already had the ticket written, but I let 'em go because they had kids," Frank said. "I couldn't see putting a man in jail for a $10 fine when he had a wife and kids."

Some of those let off on their promise never returned with the money. And in 1957, the state auditor found Frank had 22 outstanding tickets with no bond money to show.

Frank came up with $220 out of his pocket.

He made perhaps 10,000 arrests in his 30 years, and has decided the biggest traffic offenders are ministers.

"That's right, preachers," he said. "More than anybody, they'll tell a lie. The last four preachers I stopped would tell me, 'I wasn't doing this, I wasn't doing that.'"

The preachers around Donnelsville don't mind his comments. He's retiring as fire chief in October, and they apparently will miss him as much as anyone.

ADDITIONAL STORAGE SPACE — Hidy's Foods, 1151 Columbus Ave., is preparing an additional frozen food refrigerator at the rear of the store. Slightly larger than the average home refrigerator, the cubicle measures approximately 10 by 15 feet. Everett Lovehough, owner, said the new freezer guarantees the store will have sufficient stock to serve its patrons. Doing the final installation are Robert Carr, outside, store maintenance official, and Wilbur Wilson, of Webb-Wilson Refrigeration Service, Washington C.H.

New baseball rules unveiled by panel

NEW YORK (AP) — Relief pitchers must finish a game in order to qualify for a "save," according to new baseball rules announced today.

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn also announced that the Official Playing Rules Committee has approved new regulations dealing with specifications for bats and for errant throws by a pitcher which end up out of play.

Proposed by the Baseball Writers' Association of America, the new pitching rule now requires relief hurlers to qualify under three categories in order to get credit for a save.

The rule stipulates that a relief pitcher is credited with a save when he is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his team and is not the winning pitcher.

He also must enter the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitch for at least one inning; or enter the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat or on deck; or he pitches effectively for at least three innings.

Prior to now, it was possible for more than one pitcher to qualify under the previous provisions. If that happened, the scorer was to credit the save to the pitcher he judged to have been the most effective, or not to credit a save at all. The new bat specifications were caused by some players using a "cupped" bat — one with an indentation on the thick end. At its annual convention in December, baseball approved legislation to eject from the game and give a three-day suspension to any player using an illegally filled or doctored bat.

Another rule strengthened in the December meeting directs umpires to eject any pitcher who is found to have a foreign substance on him or in his possession. The previous rule had allowed for a warning prior to ejection.

The other rule clarification just approved allows a runner or batter-runner to advance two bases if a ball pitched to the batter or thrown by the pitcher from the rubber to a base "remains on the playing field, and is subsequently kicked or deflected into the dugout, stands or other area where the ball is dead."

Indians sign six players

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Indians General Manager Phil Seghi announced that he signed six more Cleveland Indians to their 1975 baseball contracts on Wednesday.

The new signers were outfielders John Lowenstein and John Jeter and pitchers Tom Buskey, Bruce Ellingsen, Eric Raich and Bob Grossman.

Pros complete college selections

NEW YORK (AP) — It started with excitement and anticipation when Atlanta selected quarterback Steve Bartkowski as the No. 1 choice in the National Football League's 40th annual collegiate draft.

It ended with a whimper, 20 hours, 58 minutes later with crumpled coffee cups as weary club representatives recorded Pittsburgh's selection of Nebraska guard Stan Hegeler as the 442nd and final choice in the 1974 draft.

In between there were two days of drafting, 17 rounds, a number of important trades, and always the ominous shadow of Judge William T. Sweigert's remark that the whole exercise was "illegal and unreasonable."

Judge Sweigert delivered that opinion last month in his decision on Joe Kapp's suit against the NFL. Commissioner Pete Rozelle might have had that in mind when he began the draft by saying, "Order in the court."

By the time the draft had reached its conclusion, Southern California had set a record with 14 players selected, one more than the number picked from Ohio State. Nebraska was next with 12 picks followed by Maryland's 11 and 10 each by Oklahoma, Penn State and Notre Dame.

Muhlmann's job up for grabs?

CINCINNATI (AP) — Horst Muhlmann's future with the Cincinnati Bengals was shrouded by question marks today after the National Football League team moved to reinforce its kicking game.

Shortly after the Bengals reached into the annual college draft for its first place kicker in five years, reports surfaced that the veteran West German kicker was undergoing a tax audit by the Internal Revenue Service.

Earlier in the day, Cincinnati announced that NFL Hall of Fame kicker Lou Groza had agreed to instruct Bengals punter Dave Green.

Mike Brown, assistant general manager of the Bengals, confirmed that the club was assisting Muhlmann with the IRS situation.

"I have no reason to doubt he won't be back next year," said Brown. He declined to elaborate on the extent of the IRS review.

Another high Bengals official said of the tax situation: "It was nothing malicious or intended. He (Muhlmann) just didn't know what he was doing."

The IRS responded by saying it would follow its standard procedure of not discussing any cases.

Muhlmann, the club's all-time scorer and oldest member of the team at age 35, struggled through the 1974 season, finishing with a career low of 11 field goals in 18 attempts.

He left for West Germany shortly after the season ended. The former international soccer standout makes his home in Gelsenkirchen.

Taken as insurance in the 15th round was place kicker Greg Enright of Southern Oregon.

Meanwhile Coach Paul Brown expressed optimism with the results of the two-day NFL draft, one which saw the Bengals net a club-high 22 players.

"Considering our position, we feel we did well," said the 66-year-old coach.

Drafting 14th, Cincinnati put a premium on linebackers, taking Florida's Glenn Cameron as their No. 1 choice. He was one of four linebackers selected.

The 6-foot-2, 230-pounder visited the Bengals, along with many of the other top draftees, but said no date has been set for contract talks.

The Bengals took four defensive backs among their 11 choices Wednesday. A Cincinnati product, Lofell Williams of Virginia Union, was one of two wide receivers taken. He was a ninth round pick.

Blue Lions host Greenfield Friday

BY MARK REA
Record-Herald Sports Writer
Washington C. H. plunges into South Central Ohio League action Friday as they are visited by the Greenfield Tigers. The Blue Lions are presently lodged in a tie for fifth place in the SCOL standings with county rival Miami Trace. McClain is tied for second with Hillsboro.

Washington will be trying to snap a two-game losing streak, and the Tigers have dropped three of their last four encounters. Both teams were beaten in SCOL competition last week, Washington fell to Unioto and Greenfield were whipped by the league champs, Circleville.

Lion head coach Gary Shaffer said that his starting five will be Mark Shaw and Chuck Byrd at the guards, John Denen at center, and Doug Phillips and either Ken Upthegrove or Eddie DeWees at the forward positions.

Byrd and Phillips provided more than three-fourths of the point scoring in the Unioto game. Phillips tossed in a season high 30 markers and Byrd heaped in 19. Byrd is the SCOL's leading scorer in league games with a 19.5 average. Phillips is now fourth in the league with a 15.6 points per contest.

McClain is expected to stay with their starting lineup of Bill Flynn and Jeff Holsinger at guard, Steve Harvey at the pivot and Dave McCoy and Gary Barr at the forwards. Also expected to see action will be Joe Stewart and Tim Dreher.

Flynn and Harvey are the Tigers highest scorers. Flynn averages 15.1 points per contest while Harvey is presently popping 14.6 per time out.

Shaffer stated, "The key to victory will be to contain Flynn outside, hold off Harvey inside, and pound the boards. If we can do that, we should win the ballgame."

Injuries have plagued both teams this season. Lions injured list are Dewey Foster and Chavo Lozano, who missed school recently, and Mark Barker, who is still recovering from mononucleosis.

Steve Willett is the primary injury on McClain's roster. Willett, the starting center until three games ago, injured his back in a game with Miami Trace. He is reported to be in Greenfield Municipal Hospital recuperating.

Looking back to the defeat at Unioto, Shaffer expressed his dissatisfaction with the officiating and also noted, "They are a lot bigger than we are and we didn't get the right break at the right time."

He added, "We had planned to make Jeff Throckmorton drive the lane for his points, but he scored many outside shots. And when Greg Alcorn got hot in the fourth quarter, it was another turning point."

In the game, Shaffer praised Phillips by saying "his performance was of his best of the year." Phillips, only a junior, scored 30 points and pulled down 12 rebounds.

Shaffer added, "We are looking forward to the Southeast Conference tournament. Greenfield and Hillsboro look like they are the teams to beat. However, we feel like we have an excellent chance to win it again — like we did last year."

OU knocks off Bowling Green

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "We played probably our best road game of the season," an elated Dale Bandy said after his Ohio University squad knocked off Bowling Green and moved back into the thick of the Mid-American Conference basketball race.

The Bobcats' 75-69 triumph Wednesday night toppled Bowling Green (5-3) from the conference lead into second place behind Miami (4-2). Meanwhile, Ohio, now 4-3, moved into a three-way tie for third place with Western Michigan and Toledo, upset 52-48 by Kent State.

The victory was only the third in 10 road games so far this season for the Bobcats.

"We were intense tonight," Bandy noted. He said George Green, who scored 13 points, and the Falcons' Cornelius Cash, who netted nine, "have a psyche duel going every time they play, and Green won tonight."

Bandy also had words of praise for Walter Luckett and Scott Love, who poured in 19 points apiece.

Bowling Green's Jeff Montgomery took game scoring honors with 21 points.

Kent State notched its first Mac Victory in seven games by fighting back from a 44-38 halftime deficit, using a zone defense that stymied Toledo. The Golden Flashes exploded for 11 straight points to go ahead for good.

Randy Felhaber and Tony Jamison scored 12 and 11 points, respectively, to lead the balanced Kent attack.

Miami, playing outside the league, downed Dayton 74-62 behind the 19-point performance of sophomore forward Chuck Goodyear. The triumph improved Miami's record to 13-4, while Dayton fell to a 7-9 mark.

In other Ohio college basketball action Wednesday night, 13th ranked Marquette rolled over Xavier 73-55 after the Musketeers had held a brief lead early in the game.

In Ohio Conference action, Wittenberg whipped Ohio Wesleyan 90-58 to keep pace with Marietta and Heidelberg at the top of the league standings with 6-2 records.

Muskingum fell further behind the leaders with a 4-3 mark by losing a squeaker to Capital 49-47 in overtime. Center Pat Moeller gave the Crusaders the triumph by sinking a layup with 22 seconds left in the overtime.

Other OC games saw Ohio Northern coasting by Oberlin 71-56 and Mount Union trimming Wooster 78-76.

Hanover and Defiance maintained their 1-2 positions in the Hoosier-Buckeye Conference standings with victories. Hanover beat Bluffton 98-59 behind the 25-point performance of Tony Veldhaus and Defiance defeated Earlham 101-92, with 31 of its points coming on free throws.

Taylor, Ind., sneaked past Wilmington 88-86 in another HBC game.

Browns choice already sought

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Browns owner Art Modell couldn't have been happier with the 1975 National Football League draft, but it was his next to last selection in the 17 round ordeal that provided the greatest laughter.

Seconds after the Browns picked J. K. McKay, the Rose Bowl star wide receiver from the University of Southern California, the phone at Modell's desk rang.

It was a member of the Los Angeles staff trying to persuade the Browns to trade off McKay to the Rams.

"That was the funniest thing that's happened all day," Modell said to his staff. "They had 22 choices, three of them in the first round, and they didn't pick McKay, now they want us to trade him away."

McKay, although not highly rated on the scouting books, had a very successful year at USC and is very popular with college football fans.

It is obvious that his small frame, 5 foot 11, 170 pounds, and his lack of speed kept him idle until more than 300 other players had been picked.

"This draft is no doubt much better than last year," said Modell. "Arthmetically alone, this one has to be better. Last year we didn't have many choices and we didn't have any high selections because of our trading. And our first selection, Billy Corbett, decided to go to play in Canada."

Modell explained that after the Browns filled their priorities in the early rounds they look for the best athlete.

"After you fill your basic needs, you look for the player with the God-given abilities, like speed and size," Modell said. "You can't teach a player those kinds of things. Naturally we wouldn't draft six linebackers in a row, but in the later rounds, you look for the overall performer."

Buckeyes see 13 players chosen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Five more Ohio State players were taken in the National Football League college draft on Wednesday, bringing to 13 the number of Buckeyes selected.

Dave Hanzel, a wide receiver from Xenia, was the first Ohio State player tapped Wednesday, going to the Baltimore Colts in the 11th round.

Steve Myers, the Buckeyes' 250-pound All-American offensive guard from Kent, was taken in the same round by the Detroit Lions.

In the 12th round Doug Plank, a defensive back from North Irwin, Pa., was the Chicago Bears' selection.

In the 14th round, defensive tackle Larry O'Rourke, a 246-pound defensive tackle from Yardley, Pa., was taken by Philadelphia.

Mike Bartoszek, a 6-foot-4, 218-pound tight end from Erie, Pa., went to the New York Jets in the 17th round.

Four other Ohio college players were tapped by the pros Wednesday.

Larry Poole, Kent State's tailback from Akron, went to the Cleveland Browns in the ninth round.

Baltimore went for Central State defensive back Jon Bradford in the 11th round.

Cincinnati defensive back Charles Bland was a 12th round pick of the Dallas Cowboys. Tight end Jim Testerman of Dayton also was taken by the Cowboys, in the 17th round.

Mrs. Hagler states that with the economy in the shape it's in, people are no longer donating. "When the Easter seals arrive in the mail, I hope they remind people what a tragedy it is to be crippled and how fortunate they are not to be. This alone should be reason enough to donate. The handicapped need your help. Please donate," she stated.

Wheat restrictions relaxed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government export restrictions on wheat and soybeans sales are being relaxed following cancellation of large purchases of U.S. wheat by the Soviet Union and mainland China.

Beginning today exporters will be allowed to sell up to 100,000 tons of wheat and soybeans to foreign buyers without prior approval from the Agriculture Department. Since October the limit has been 50,000 tons.

The easing of government restraints came as sources in the commodities industry disclosed that the Soviet Union has canceled the planned purchase of 100,000 tons of wheat from Cook Industries Inc., of Memphis, Tenn., and is negotiating for the cancellation of another 100,000 tons.

Within the past week mainland China also canceled a planned purchase of more than 601,000 tons of wheat which was to have been delivered through next September.

Growers had urged the Agriculture Department to ease the restrictions so that foreign sales could be stepped up and help relieve sagging market prices. The export curbs were imposed when it appeared the United States might run short of wheat and other commodities because of large foreign orders.

"Today's announcement reflects our commitment to an expanding export trade in U.S. farm commodities," Butz said Wednesday.

His action was applauded by Jerry Rees, executive vice president of the National Association of Wheat Growers, but Rees said it did not go far enough. "The relief granted will be of some assistance but we still feel there is no justification for wheat to be under the approval system and still want it removed," Rees said.

Some government farm experts think the Soviet Union canceled the wheat purchase partly because last year's Russian harvest of corn and other grain was larger than expected.

One official who asked not to be identified said the 1974 Soviet wheat crop was about 83.8 million tons, compared with an Agriculture Department estimate Dec. 18 that it was 88 million tons.

Despite the falloff in wheat, Soviet production of other grains, including corn, peas, beans and lentils, was a near record of 111.8 million tons last year, the official said.

That put the total 1974 Soviet grain production at 195.6 million tons, slightly more than the Agriculture Department had estimated six weeks ago.

1975 year of test for Betsen

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Sen. Lloyd M. Betsen decided recently to open a presidential campaign headquarters on Capitol Hill, he insisted that the rental agreement contain a strong sublease clause.

There is no point in maintaining a campaign office if one isn't a candidate, his advisers felt.

Since indicating more than a year ago that he was interested in seeking the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination, the Texan has traveled more than 200,000 miles and given hundreds of speeches in a total of 35 states.

For Lloyd Betsen, 1975 was the year to test the political waters: gain public recognition as a candidate and the acceptance of the national media. This, aides say, he has done.

It was also the year to ask the question: "Can a moderate from Texas be nominated by the Democrats in 1976?"

Betsen, who said more than a year ago that sometime in early 1975 he would decide whether formally to enter the race, is planning to answer that question within the next two months. "He's generally pleased with '74," said administrative assistant Lloyd Hackler.

Betsen is weighing several factors in making the decision. One of them is money.

In late November he sent a letter to Texas supporters asking for financial help. He said their response would help him decide whether to step up his campaign.

The goal was $500,000. Approximately $620,000 was raised. He collected slightly more than $1 million during 1974 and is starting 1975 with $650,000 on hand.

Betsen raised $350,000 in a November 1973 fund drive, but his campaign bank account was down to the last $100,000.

Ben Palumbo, an aide hired to work primarily on the presidential campaign, stressed that Betsen does not want to throw himself into the race if he has little likelihood of success.

"He's not a guy who believes in tilting at windmills," Palumbo said.

But, as the Betsen office studies the feasibility of a campaign, the answers it receives, according to Palumbo, are favorable.

"He has received encouragement from people, expressions of support, and invitations to return," the aides said.

He has concentrated his appearances in the sections of the nation with traditionally large impacts on the selection process.

The bidding:
East South West North
3♥ 4♠ 4♥ Pass
Pass 4♠ Dble

Opening lead — king of hearts.

The imagination of man hath no bounds; if you question this, think back to what some of your partners have done to you lately. Or, vice versa!

Take this deal from a team of four match. At the first table, East concocted a shoestring three heart bid, which required some gall as well as imagination.

In a sense, this was a well-timed call, as it posed quite a problem for South. However, South came out reasonably well when he wound up at four spades doubled, making six for 1,190 points.

At the second table, the bidding went altogether differently:

East	South	West	North
Pass 2♠	Pass 2♦	Pass 2♠	Pass 2♦
5♥	6♠	Dble 6♠	Dble 6♠
Pass	Pass	Dble	Dble

Declarer had no trouble making the slam, losing only a heart trick and scoring 1,680 points. West's A-K, A-K and K-J added up to exactly one trick. Actually, West's double of six spades was extremely doubtful. He should have realized that South was deliberately undertaking a slam he apparently expected to make, and that he had to have highly irregular distribution for such an ambitious undertaking.

West therefore had very little to gain by a double — at best he could not expect to beat the contract more than one trick. Instead, West should have played safe and bid seven hearts as a sacrifice against a probable slam. At worst this would have cost him 700 points instead of 1,680.

What really happened was that West paid much too much attention to what his eyes told him (18 high-card points), and not enough attention to what his ears told him (that South thought he could make twelve tricks). In effect, West was tone-deaf.

Heart Attack and Heart Failure

Is a coronary heart attack the same as "heart failure?"

Mr. T.O., S.D.

Dear Mr. O.:
From a technical point of view, they differ. Many readers are confused about this.

A coronary heart attack is one that occurs when the coronary artery that feeds blood to the heart itself is closed. When this happens a portion of the heart muscle is oxygen-impaired, and therefore does not actively pump blood to the rest of the body. This is just one type of heart failure.

Heart failure is essentially the inability of the heart to continue to function properly. There are many other reasons for heart failure besides coronary artery disease.

The heart muscle is one of the most powerful muscles in the body. With each beat, at regular intervals, it sends oxygenated blood and nourishment to all the other organs of the body.

Let us assume that with each beat of the heart one ounce of blood is pumped out of the heart. When the heart is in good health it beats about 80 times per minute. If there is no obstruction anywhere along the circulatory system, the heart continues to do its efficient job.

Now let us assume that some obstruction occurs to the free flow of blood. Narrowing of the arteries due to arteriosclerosis, diseases of the lung, the liver, the spleen or the intestines may make demands on the heart for more and more blood.

This back pressure on the heart means that the heart must increase its rate in order to continue to pump out an adequate amount of blood.

The added work burden may make it necessary for the heart to beat 120 times per minute. This adds a tremendous pressure on the heart's ability to function.

If back pressure continues to build up and when the heart muscle becomes inadequate and cannot pump out enough blood to nourish the body, it becomes fatigued and fails to perform its duty. This is heart failure.

The treatment for heart failure, therefore, is devoted to relieving the disease of other organs that exert back pressure on the heart. In addition, weakness of the heart muscle itself is treated with drugs such as digitalis and adequate rest. In this way, the heart muscle may rejuvenate itself and bouts of heart failure minimized in severity and in frequency.
